HOWARD B. RICHARDS

Howard B. Richards, former manager of the New Castle Water Company, was appointed director of this year's Community Chest campaign, October 14 through 24, at a meeting of the organization's board of directors in the Castleton hotel Wednesday evening.

Mr. Richards, recently retired from the management of the Birmingham, Ala. Water Company, has returned to New Castle to make his home after residing for some time in St. Petersburg, Fla. During his years of residence here he was active in many civic ventures.

The date of the campaign was also set by the board Wednesday evening. This year's goal will be determined at the next meeting, shortly after the first of September, when the directors will pass on the budget drawn up by the budget committee.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Even though the sidewalk is barricaded on Mercer street, beside the Leslie hotel, people continue to climb over the planks laid there and risk serious injury rather than walk around the barrier, Pa New observed. Heavy timbers are supporting the wall at that point, but if bricks should fall from the bulge on the wall, they could be painful to anyone they should strike.

Driving through the rural area of the county on Wednesday evening, Pa New discovered that most of the farm lands, gardens and foliage are in good shape, with the rains of the past few weeks being a big help in bringing back to life much of the plant life that was pretty parched looking for a time. Many corn fields were in good shape for picking, Pa New also noticed.

Jay walking is still being practiced quite extensively on the downtown streets of the city, Pa New observed. Many cities present the offenders with a ticket in the same (Continued on Page Two)

TAKE IT EASY ON EVICTIONS

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 8.—(INS)—Look! here, landlords and landladies, take it easy when you serve those eviction notices.

Take it from Judge Stanley A. Tweedle. Landlady Mrs. Rose I. Ein, of Hammond, tried to evict Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smedley. They gave her the silent treatment.

She barged in to Mr. Smedley's bathroom and served the eviction notice while he was bathing.

Smedley complained. Judge Tweedle fined Mrs. Ein $5 for trespassing.

No Settlement Yet Of Duquesne Light Dispute In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Negotiations were underway today between officials of the Duquesne Light Co. and its independent union to halt a threatened light and power strike—the second within eight months—in this teeming industrial metropolis. The strike is scheduled to take place Aug. 31.

A meeting was called for today between management and union committees following a five-hour long conference with Mayor David L. Lawrence, who warned:

"The city is in no mood to be victimized in another war of nerves."

At the same time it was learned that Federal Conciliator Charles Kutz, who helped settle the 1945 hour blackout last February, will attend the sessions in the office of E. C. Stone, vice president and general manager of the company.

The conferees will attempt to negotiate wage increase and other demands of the firm's 1,500 hourly employees.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(INS)—William Heirens, thrice-confessed killer, faced arraignment today on a third murder indictment, following the thwarting of a possible suicide plan of the baffling 34-year-old University of Chicago student.

Heirens will be arraigned before Chief Justice Harold C. Ward in criminal court for the Murder of Mrs. Josephine Ross, a widow, June 3, 1945.

Been Indicted

The youth—whose crimes shocked the nation—confessed the robbery-slashing of Mrs. Ross yesterday. He already has been indicted for the kidnap-slashing of Suzanne Degnan last Jan. 7, and the "lipstick" murder of ex-WAVE Frances Brown, 33, Dec. 10, 1945.

Arraignment in the Degnan and Brown slayings had been postponed until Aug. 14. Heirens may enter a plea in the Ross killing today, and possibly in all three crimes.

The possible suicide plan was nipped in the bud when Sheriff Michael Mulcahy found a razor blade concealed in a book Heirens had revealed in a book Heirens had revealed (Continued on Page Two)

BYRNES SPEECH AIDED BY MOSCOW RADIO ANNOUNCER

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Moscow radio today reported the text of the peace conference challenge speech of Secretary of State James Byrnes to Soviet newspapers. It was read by a commentator on the Home News Service and followed immediately by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's reply.

The challenge occurred when Byrnes taunted Molotov on the Soviet press and dared him to print the text of the speech in Russian newspapers.

Molotov accepted the challenge in a following statement:

"The 42-year-old former second baseman was found dead in his San Francisco home late yesterday, apparently the victim of a heart attack."

Funeral arrangements were not immediately announced.

This Little Steer Went To Market

May Have Been Looking For White
Shirts Or Nylons: Finally Brought Down

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The bull in the china shop had nothing today on a wild brown steer which rampaged through two Philadelphia stores before being killed with a pistol shot between the eyes.

Hundred of shoppers fled screaming when the steer escaped from a slaughter house at 873 North Fallon street, thundered down a busy street, and into a Sun-Ray drug store at 5212 Market Street.

The animal tumbled merchandise and furniture about before dashing out of the store, weaving through traffic and pillars and roaring into a furniture store across the street.

Again office workers and clerks scurried for cover, hiding under tables or scrambling to desk tops screaming.

Finally, the steer was cornered and shot between the eyes.

LIFEGUARD STRIKE AVERTED

WILDWOOD, N. J., Aug. 8.—(INS)—A strike of lifeguards was averted today by their acceptance of a 25 per cent boost in pay.

The guards accepted the pay boost by a vote of 18 to 14 after they had threatened to quit "life saving" unless granted larger pay increases.

Former Servicemen Split Over Issue

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Two veterans organizations took opposing sides today in the battle of former servicemen seeking a taxi-cab franchise in Pittsburgh.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 7607, through its commander, Donato J. Pastin, declared the veterans taxi-cab franchise, recently filed with the Public Utilities commission, was an attempt to "exploit the good will toward veterans for a purely selfish purpose".

The American veterans committee meanwhile, appealed to Gov. Edward Martin in Harrisburg to support the proposed veterans organized Peoples Cab company.

Food Tieup Looming, Need OPA Ruling

Grocers Want Some Decision
On Prices Before Decontrol Starts Aug. 21

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3.—(INS)—Wholesale grocers today predicted a serious tieup in canned goods and fresh fruits unless "the OPA sets a ceiling price on the merchandise immediately".

The merchants appealed to the department of agriculture, declaring it was impossible to wait for the beginning of the OPA decontrol operations, scheduled to get underway Aug. 21.

The grocers pointed out that the OPA's tactics of "delay, linger and wait" makes it difficult for them to make any decisions with the shippers.

Thorny Issues Loom For Peace Conference—Spe-

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Axis satellite nations for whom treaties are being completed in Paris indicated today that they have urgent demands to make of the peace conference, and are prepared to battle for them.

Delegates of the victorious 21 nations are convinced the brief period of "smooth sailing" which followed the storm first week of the parley will end abruptly as enemy states are heard from.

Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland each has a Thorny issue to raise and spokesmen for these nations have promised to protest loudly if an attempt is made to "kick them around".

The agenda for today's plenary session called for the delegates to adopt rules of procedure for the conference and its committees. This was expected to be a more formal session since all 21 participating nations were represented in the rules committee.

While the satellite states are expected to air grievances, and even so far as to make certain territorial demands, victorious powers with claims to promote are also ready to fight for them in conference and committee sessions.

Disposal Plant Repair Bid Made

Council Informed Cost Of Modernization To Approximate $160,000

Modernization of the city sewage disposal plant, a move demanded by the State Health department, will cost the city of New Castle between $150,000 and $160,000, for proper operation 12 months in the year, it was reported today after council had opened a bid for the improvement. The only bidder was Mathew Levo Somo company.

There are times during the year when the plant cannot be operated. The state health department has demanded operation 12 months in the year, hence the presentation of a bid today to the city.

Unit prices for almost 100 improvements were presented but it was stated that the complete cost for the improvements would range between $150,000 and $160,000.

The bid was referred to City Engineer John Z. Street for checking.

Isotopes May Help In Fight Against Disease

Radioactive Isotopes Used In Fight On Hayfever And Asthma

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—W. A. Higginbotham, president of the Federation of American Scientists, disclosed today that radioactive isotopes promise to pave the way to health for hayfever and asthma sufferers.

Higginbotham asserted that isotopes, first peacetime products from arsenals of the atomic bomb, can be used to solve age-old riddles of all allergies.

Created in chain-reacting uranium piles, isotopes already have been made available to the nation's research institutions for use against cancer and diabetes.

Seek Disease Causes
Isotopes are used as "atomic spies" inside plants or human bodies, paving the way to treatment of disease of revealing its cause.

Higginbotham explained that in cases of hayfever or asthma, it can be traced by tracing isotopes, made possible by their radioactivity, what chemicals in weeds, pollen, rabbit fur, feathers or the like causes some people to suffer the ailments.

The next step would be to make a radioactive isotope of this chemical and "tag" it through the bodies of individuals with hayfever or asthma as a means of finding out what is causing the uncomfortable bodily reaction.

quested be brought to his cell. The sheriff said he believed Heirens had hidden the blade in the book.

The incident gave credence to previous reports of Heirens' attempted suicide. Officials had guarded against this by taking away Heirens' necktie and shoe laces.

State's Attorney William Thony said Heirens had requested four books be sent to his cell after his confession had been completed. The books had been found in his room.

Find Razor Blade
A routine search disclosed the razor blade between the pages of "A Treasury of American Folklore" in a chapter entitled "The Shipping Out." The other books requested by Heirens were "The Ego and His Own" by Max Stern, "Thus Spake Zarathustra" by Nietzsche and "The Philosophy of Spinoza."

Heirens was not given the books. Nor was he advised of the discovery of the blade.

Thony said hiding of the blade was in keeping with Heirens' previous behavior—such as writing a letter signed by the fictional "George Murman" aimed at clearing him of the burglaries, constant guard against leaving finger prints, and his frequent discard of guns and knives used in his nocturnal prowls.

Heirens is expected to plead guilty to all three slayings and 29 burglary indictments. Arrangements then call for Thony to ask consecutive sentences of life imprisonment on the major charges.

manner erring motorists receive one. Some cities charge jaw walkers a fine of $1.

Widening of the Perry highway at Leesburg continues, Pa. News noticed in traveling through that area on Wednesday evening. An apron, being built on either side of the present highway, making it much safer to travel on than the former narrow road was.

In the odd sights department, Pa. News discovered a man walking through one of the downtown alleys, with one of the largest watermelons he has witnessed in a long time.

Pa. News learned that the large melon, which was almost all the gentleman could carry weighed 44 pounds. Normally the larger melons weigh 18 to 20 pounds.

With the opening of a new school in the old Aiken school building on Pearson street, Pa. News finds that quite a traffic tie up occurs at the corner of East Washington street and Pearson street, each day around 3:30 p. m., at the time when the school is dismissed. Cars line up Pearson street quite a ways attempting to get out onto the main thoroughfare.

It is reported that in the garden of David B. Thomas, superintendent of mails at local post office, and Mr. and Mrs. William Black of Florence avenue, there are thirty-four tomatoes on one vine. The garden plot is situated in East Brook. Some of these tomatoes are commencing to ripen.

Lots of babies have grandmothers living, a few have great-grandmothers, but not many can boast a great-great grandmother living, as in the case called to Pa. News' attention. Ten-months' old Donna Jean Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker, of R. D. 5, Highland Heights, is the fifth generation on her mother's side. Her great-great grandmother is Mrs. Elizabeth Ryhal, 86, who makes her home with Donna Jean's great-grandmother, Mrs. Grace Phillips, of the Youngstown road. Mrs. Hazel Fultz, of this city is the baby's grandmother. Donna Jean will have her first birthday on October 22.

Early this morning a heavy fog covered various parts of the city. Probably the heaviest was in the Seventh Ward where Pa. News noticed cars driving with lights on.

Pa. News watched a small barefoot boy cross Mill street and go whistling down Water street. Over his left shoulder was a wooden fishing pole and from his right hand hung a string of fish, chub or shiners, a nice string, too.

Heaved a sigh and went on his way, mindful of another boy who did the same thing many years ago. Hitch-hikers can be of any age and size, Pa. News observes. Last evening at the foot of the Mt. Jackson hill, five small girls, not yet ten, were thumbing a ride into Mahoningtown.

A delayed action switch is ready for the market. It may be set so that the light will continue to glow for as long as three minutes after the switch has been turned off.

HUNGER RAMPANT SAYS CONGRESSMAN

about world conditions, as far as we saw them, was hunger.

The only country we saw in which there seemed to be enough food was Siam, which was suspected of collaboration with Japan during the war.

In the rest of the world it was quite evident there was insufficient food.

For example, we were sitting outside the Burgerhof in Munich—the beer hall that was the home of Hitler's original Putsch, now used as an American recreation center—and I saw two old men going through garbage cans. The men were eating morsels they found, just brushing them off to clean them and then putting them in their mouths.

Bread shortage
In England we had bread with breakfast, but if we wished bread with both of our other meals we had to forego one of the principal courses, such as the meat or the fish.

And the portion of sugar in England was very small.

In Scotland the Lord Probst of Edinburgh entertained us at Drum-na-mear, near Loch Lomond. There we saw peaches in a basket for sale, but they cost three and six. That is three shillings, sixpence, about 75 cents, each.

Although money seems to be plentiful, it just doesn't seem to meet the prices people have to pay and shortages are evident.

For instance, our chauffeur in England was worried about food for his children. He was afraid he could not get enough to nourish them.

And in London we saw one old woman a shopkeeper, with a bottle about the size of a Coca Cola bottle, of milk. It was her ration for two days, and she had it only because she was an invalid.

In Germany and Japan the people who work for American installations and restaurants are glad to do it because they can get food.

Money Means Little
A friend of mine, a correspondent in Japan, told me that among the girls who worked for the Americans, salaries meant little or nothing; the jobs were immaterial, but they got food.

It is all caused by the disruption due to war, the breakdown of transportation, the lack of fertilizer, and in some places the lack of manpower to operate the farms.

When men are hungry they are desperate. The "isms" that we fear here in the United States are largely generated on hunger. Hungry people are desperate people. A man who can't feed his children will steal for them and he will follow any leader who promises food.

UNRRA is not perfect, but it has functioned in getting food to the starving world.

If we are going to exercise any Christian charity toward the other nations of the world, we have to feed them.

TONY LAZZERI IS FOUND DEAD

dead for "about 24 hours" when he was found lying at the foot of a flight of stairs by his wife, Mae.

Mrs. Lazzeri had rushed home from a vacation trip after business associates had informed her that they had been unable to contact her husband by phone for two days.

Besides his wife the former Yankee slugger is survived by a son, David Anthony, 16.

No Warning
The death of the man who was one of the feared members of the Yankees' "murder's row" came without advanced warning. His wife reported that he had been in apparent good health although he had complained of being extremely tired on many occasions.

Mrs. Lazzeri said she had wanted her husband to go with her on a vacation to the Russian river, a resort north of San Francisco, but that he had refused because of the press of business interests.

Since retiring from active participation in baseball in 1941, Lazzeri had devoted much of his time to managing his San Francisco cocktail lounge, known as "Melody Lane."

Big Leagues 1936
The famed "Push 'em Up" Tony first went to the big leagues in 1926 when he was bought from Seattle by the Yankees for $50,000 cash and players estimated to be worth an additional $25,000. Lazzeri had hit 60 home runs the season before he went up to the big leagues and with the Yankees continued to star both at bat and in the field.

He played in six World Series with the Yanks and one with the Chicago Cubs in 1938. He left the majors to manage the Toronto club in the International league and later signed as a player with the San Francisco Seals in 1941. It was then he decided to retire from baseball.

MOSCOW PRINTS BYRNES SPEECH

By Byrnes and the reply by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Pravda came off the press later than usual, probably because of the time required to translate Byrnes' speech into Russian.

As printed, Byrnes' statement closed with his challenge to see if printed in the Soviet press and his expression of admiration for the Russian people.

Molotov's reply in which he accepted the challenge from Byrnes, was divided into three parts and included his remarks that a handful of persons control a large number of newspapers in the United States and Britain.

The address by Byrnes was sharply critical of the stand adopted by Molotov at the peace conference. In reply, Molotov charged Byrnes with inconsistency and failure to maintain the agreements reached by the big four council of foreign ministers.

Because Councilman James Gibson was confined to his home today because of a slight illness, Councilman Davies investigated the complaints.

He said he had been informed that city engineers had been working to alleviate the condition and that they maintained they had to by-pass the sewerage through the run.

The break in the Green Street line is 18 feet deep and in quick sand, according to Davies.

However, the alleviation is to be hurried, he reported today.

alerted coastal police and stations to prepare for the expected mass immigration.

Harsh Policy
This new Jewish tactic was disclosed following indications that the British government was preparing a harsh policy to stifle the increasing flow of refugees fleeing from Palestine.

Several immigration vessels already have been shunted to Cyprus but a British official said the immigrants would be held there only temporarily pending construction of additional accommodations in Palestine.

The cabinet was understood to have decided not to surrender the British mandate of policy reportedly announcing determination to carry through the four-way partition plan.

JERUSALEM, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The Arab higher committee rejected a British invitation today to discuss the Palestine question in a series of London conferences.

The request was declined on behalf of the Arab committee by Chairman Jajja Hussein, who made a special trip from Egypt to Palestine to conference with the British high commissioner, Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan G. Cunningham.

Hussein told the commissioner that the Arab committee would not take part in any discussions connected directly with the proposed partitioning or federation of the Holy Land.

Calls Meeting
Gen. Cunningham summoned the Arab official from Egypt for the conference, explaining that a meeting was required urgently.

Both Arab and Jewish groups have announced their opposition to the British proposal to split Palestine into four provinces, two to be controlled by the British and one each reserved for the Arab and Jewish states.

Alfred Sukerri, director of the Arab office, said the Arabs were mobilizing all their diplomatic and political forces to combat the British plan for federation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—American discussions of the Palestine question were speeded up today by the news of permitting a full report to be made to the cabinet at its regular weekly meeting tomorrow.

Experts engaged in the study of the London proposal of the Anglo-American cabinet committee were to meet again today for further examination of the suggestion.

The proposal would admit 100,000 Jews to Palestine at once and commit the United States to an expenditure of about $60 million dollars.

Discussion of the London plan which would partition Palestine into four separate federalized states, lasted all day Wednesday. The meeting was held in the office of Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

At one point Acheson held the conference to confer with President Truman at the White House.

Responsible observers were doubtful that the problem can be solved immediately. Some predicted that the matter would have to be turned over ultimately to the United Nations organization in New York as too difficult a problem for solution by the United States and Britain alone.

At best for the present it was believed machinery must be set up for further implementation of the Anglo-American Palestine committee's report recommending an overall program for all the Near East.

ITALIANS SLAVS LOATH TO TAKE PROPOSED PLAN

laying the issue at stake recommended for renewed consideration by the conference of foreign ministers.

Battle Looms
Informed quarters anticipate that some of the battles for special "claims" will equal in intensity the stormy majority voting issue that ended in defeat for Soviet Russia.

Most difficult problem facing the conference is the deadlock over the minority council proposal to internationalize Trieste.

Neither Yugoslavia nor Italy seems willing to accept such a solution, and the four-power committee which has been studying the problem for weeks has been unable to reach a satisfactory draft plan for the proposed "free territory of Trieste."

The Italian delegation headed by Premier Alcide De Gasperi is expected also to voice criticism against operations demands and disposition of Italy's navy.

Other states such as Bulgaria are understood to be ready to demand new territory beyond their present borders.

Trieste Is Number 1
But Trieste is problem No. 1, and American circles believe the Big Four may meet to consider that matter as soon as British Foreign Secretary Bevin returns to Paris.

The Big Four were said to be ready to turn the Trieste issue over to the conference if they cannot find a common formula for the port's disposition.

The conference would then relegate the matter to the committee dealing with Italian treaty where a fight would almost certainly ensue.

IN THE OPEN

Cicadas droned in the trees all about like so many tireless sawyers getting out the lumber for tomorrow's work. A desultory breeze flirted for a time with the idea of sending a summer shower across the area. Driving upper air currents whipped the clouds into great long "mare's tails" and pushed huge thunderheads across the skies like so many pawns in a tremendous game of chess. The darker rain clouds finally veered off to the southwest, leaving the open countryside to the mercy of the early August sun.

A shopworn bumblebee blundered about clumsily over a purple peazebloom, parading a few sips of nectar. From the thick cover on the hillside a chevron spoke his name with rather monotonous regularity, while from a treetop perch further along a colleague sang bellily. I came across a paper wasp nest, being constructed with great care and diligence on the branch of a Hawthorne sapling, scarcely a foot above the ground. Here I paused for a time, watching these expert carpenters at work and marveling at the sure instinct which motivates their activities.

The birds were white with wild carrot blooms, which played host to a multitude of pattering bees, and flies and other bugs. The many honeybees indicated a bee tree nearby, or a colony of hives not too far distant. Blue grass had ripened and cast its fruits. The brown stems bore the empty seed heads well above the cinquefoil which marks great portions of this area. Blackberries hung in full dead-ripe clusters, a sure sign that there is no sugar abroad in the land.

Never have I known the blackberries to be so plump and delicious as they are this season. The com-ination of sun and rain has been just right to bring on these fruits in prime fullness. Field sparrows came out to sing their evening song along the fence rows as the late afternoon wore on toward the twilight. The wood fell completely dead and the whole countryside stood quietly at rest, basked in that half-mystical light which glorifies the retirement of the Summer sun.

It was good to hear from old friends among the evening choristers. The warm months bring many songsters whose volume and brilliance overshadow our year round neighbors. These prima donnas tire early and are usually subdued and quiet after mid-July, occupied with raising their young and preparing for the long trek to the South. Once again the "old timers" can be heard. I noted the song of a cardinal grosbeak and heard the clear whistling of the tufted titmouse. Chickadees scurried through the thickets, pausing now and then to toss a tiny song bouquet to the setting sun.

As the sun dropped behind the distant hill the land was promptly saved in evening coolness. The curious moon came overhead to see what was going on. Chimney swifts once one last foray above the treetops before retiring and a goldfinch came leaping down from high overhead like a miniature stunt flier. As darkness possessed the land robins muttered sleepily while setting for the night in a nearby tree and a Carolina wren insisted on showing off his vocal skill at the last minute.

Soon full darkness prevailed and the Summer star show wheeled slowly through the skies. The big dipper took up the guide post position pointing out Polaris, the north star while the handle etched out a skyway leading directly to the bright Arcturus, flashing like a jewel in the knee of a mighty hunter. Bootes, who is forever pursuing the great bear. The northern cross stood out clearly against the star dust of the milky way, with the bright star Deneb at the top of the cross, serving as one point of a triangle by which Vega, in the constellation Lyra and Altair, in the constellation Aquila, could be easily located.

The night shift took over as the day shift punched the clock and went home. Great sphinx moths darted across the fields, pausing briefly amid the clumps of evening primrose. A screech owl quivered from the distant hillside and was immediately answered by another perched somewhere close by. A bat blundered about in erratic flight snapping up his dinner where he found it.

I drove away towards my home valley by way of a neighboring city. Here, bemused by the glare of a bright street light, I saw a great yellow moth, fluttering about aimlessly, snared by the lure of the brilliant glow. It was the male imperial moth, a beautiful creature, and the only member of its particular moth family found within the borders of this country.

The hour was well past midnight when I arrived at my own doorway. Arcturus had long since gone below the far hills, and the big dipper hung low in the northern sky, asking me to call it a day which I did in short order.

Peace Conferees Really 'Peaceful'

PARIS, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The Paris peace conference met in an atmosphere of strangely contrasting unanimity Wednesday and agreed without dissent upon a string of proposals.

These included a resolution by U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes that the five former enemy nations be invited to appear before a plenary session to state their views.

Byrnes suggested that Italy, Finland, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary be allowed to present their positions and petitions Saturday. Andrei Vyshinski of Soviet Union said invitations should be sent to these nations immediately in view of the "urgency" of the situation and proposed that the defeated countries also be heard by separate commissions.

The American delegate then proposed that the conference should provide for any further hearings that may be necessary, and this revised amendment was adopted unanimously.

WEDDING AT COUNTRY CLUB

We live in a very tiny apartment. I am to be married soon and Mother and Dad and I have decided to have both the ceremony and the reception in a country club to which we belong. What arrangements should we make?

Answer: You, your father and mother should go together to the club and make all arrangements with the manager. You should have a hall room or a suite of rooms, according to your needs.

Be sure you check up on every detail, such as the availing of the door, the attendants you will need, stating the number of expected guests, your complete menu, the music and decorations.

The program for a wedding of this type should be precisely the same as that of a home wedding—the arrangement of the room for the ceremony, receiving the guests, serving of the refreshments, etc. Here is the arrangement. At one end of the room where the ceremony will occur place an oblong table to be used as an improvised altar. On the table spread a white cloth made of linen or a lace runner and at each end put tall, white candles, flanking a centerpiece of flowers.

In front of this improvised altar, place either a pre-dieu of you have one or instead a white satin pillow on which the bride couple may kneel side by side. Choose the most attractive spot in the room for this improvised altar and behind it arrange floral decorations, such as palms, evergreens, huge sprays of dogwood, etc., bearing in mind that this will be the focal point of interest in the room.

If expense is no object, you may rent from a florist small potted supporting ropes of greens and flowers to be used to mark an aisle from the entrance to the place of the ceremony—the path to be followed by the bride party. Or you may use chairs for this purpose. The processional should enter in the same order as prescribed for a church ceremony.

Present your problems to Miss Market who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

TIME PROBLEM

XENIA, O.—(INS)—Differences over "fast" and "slow" time are circumvented by a Xenia bar. Customers who remark the bar clock is a half-hour fast or slow get this answer from the bartender: "Half of Xenia is on fast time, the other half on slow." Mr. customers come from both sections so I'm in between.

Did you ever wonder if some folks are as careless at home as they are in the forests?

tion to fill such vacancies. Provided, That the Legislature of any State may empower the Executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the Legislature may direct.

3. This amendment shall not be construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as a part of the Constitution.

Article XVIII

1. After one year from the ratification of this article, the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the Legislature of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

Prior to the adoption of the Sixteenth Amendment it was necessary in laying an income tax to make the tax uniform—such a percent on the income whether it was a million dollars or not.

Regarding the Seventeenth Amendment it is hard to understand, as I have said, why the Legislatures of the different States were ever persuaded to yield their right to choose their State Senators, and the popular election of State Senators has multiplied the number of Congressmen and a Senator is just another member of the House of Representatives, the only difference being that he is elected for six years instead of two.

As for the Volstead Act and its parent, the Eighteenth Amendment, it lasted until the election of Franklin Roosevelt.

A lunation is the term applied to a complete revolution of the moon.

Continue Search For Missing Boy Near Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The first clue to indicate that missing 24-year-old Raymond Howe, Jr., missing for 24 days, might still be alive came today from Mrs. Ruth Balentine of nearby Cuddy.

Mrs. Balentine said she saw a boy answering Raymond's description on a trail in Kenwood park. She reported that the boy asked: "Have you anything to give me—a ticket to the train or something?" The youth disappeared July 15 after finishing a swim with a brother and three sisters. Since the police have combed the area and early this week 400 Boy Scouts searched the vicinity without success.

Will Help Vets To Obtain Jobs

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—(INS)—State selective service headquarters announced today that local boards had been advised to refer veterans to U. S. employment service offices for work in line with President Truman's reorganization of government.

Col. Henry M. Gross, state director, said the 422 local boards were informed that selective service was "no longer authorized to assist veterans in obtaining new employment."

Boards were instructed to supply the USES with lists of employers who had placed job orders with the selective service system, he added.

Transfer of employment functions to the USES "does not affect the responsibility of the selective service system to assist veterans in obtaining restoration of their former positions under the draft law," Gross emphasized.

C. J. William Gustafson, press foreman of The News, has returned from Pittsburgh, where he was in attendance at the eighteenth mechanical conference of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, which came to a close Wednesday in the Hotel William Penn of that city. The conference opened on Monday, with sessions being held morning, afternoon and evening, Monday and Tuesday and two sessions on Wednesday.

The conference, an annual affair, drew newspaper publishers, printers, advertising agents and trade agents from all over the United States and Canada, with the guest coming the farthest distance being an Australian, Joseph Wilkinson, of the Sydney "Sun," who traveled 10,000 miles to attend the three day meeting. Speakers at all sessions of the three day meeting discussed ways and means of improving newspapers relative to typography, plant planning, production research and many kindred subjects.

Outstanding at Wednesday's concluding session was an address by Louis D. Young, advertising director of the Indianapolis "Times," who stated that future newspapers will be saturated in color in proportion to the amount of newspaper and printing equipment is available. Announcement was made that Chicago has been selected for the nineteenth conference of the association. The dates are June 9, 10, 11, 1947 at the Palmer House.

If You Possess
A Motorboat, Get License Tags Now

Chances are you won't meet a traffic cop in the middle of Lake Erie or paddling around in some tranquil pond, but if you possess a motorboat or a motor for a craft, you must have license plates for it, according to law.

The plates, which are obtained in the regular fashion through the Department of Revenue in Harrisburg, are blue and white, and must be attached to the boat for identification.

Fee is one dollar for each cylinder of the motor, whether it be built in or attached. Dealers must pay five dollars for each set of tags, and an electrically-propelled motor license costs two dollars.

Main reason for the Commonwealth requiring these plates is for proper tracing and identification in case of accident. Many water tragedies can be solved through checking of the tags.

DESERTERS ROAM PARIS

PARIS — (INS) — Sixty thousand deserters from the Allied armies are roaming western Europe today, according to the newspaper "La Voix De Paris." Their chief centers of concentration are Paris and Brussels, said the paper, and their chief activity is crime. The weakening of Allied Military Police formations because of redeployment permits a vast and virtually uncontrolled illegal operation by the deserters, the newspaper added.

FORESEE NO CHANGE IN REIMBURSEMENT SYSTEM OF SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The State School Commission reported today there was little likelihood a change in the school reimbursement system would be recommended to the general assembly next year.

School officials of thinly populated northern tier counties had urged population density be considered in computing state subsidies to school districts, according to Director Paul H. Wueller. Payments are based on teaching units of 22 high school or 30 elementary school students.

"A survey has indicated that density is not a significant factor and hence there is no argument for making it a determining factor," Wueller said.

Newsman Score State Welfare Secretary Stand

Appeal To Governor Martin
To Get News Releases
From Woman Welfare Secretary

OTHER NEWS AT STATE CAPITAL

HARRISBURG. (INS) — State Secretary of Welfare S. M. R. O'Hara did little to improve her relations with Capitol Hill newsmen when she was unavailable for routine telephone inquiries concerning a reported dispute between the Philadelphia Mental Hospital and the Veterans administration. Stymied in her attempts to contact Miss O'Hara, newsmen appealed to Gov. Edward Martin's office and an official arranged an immediate press conference.

Miss O'Hara, a veteran state job holder, has been criticized for her administration of the department, particularly since the proposed mental and penal hospital program has bogged down. She established a commendable record while secretary of the commonwealth under ex-Gov. Arthur H. James.

Predict Long Session
Assemblymen visiting the state capital have expressed the belief that the 1947 session of the legislature will be one of the longest on record.

Veterans measures highlighted by bonus proposals and methods of financing the grants were expected to jam both House and Senate. In 1941, the general assembly met for 196 days, the longest session in 99 years. Politicians have been awaiting an announcement from the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (A. F. L.) concerning the organization's policy during the fall campaign. American Federation of Labor President William Green has called upon federations to take an intensive part in political campaigns leading some Pennsylvania politicians to predict that the P. F. L. would play a major role in the fall election. The 15-member P. F. L. executive committee was expected to meet in September. A state justice department opinion on an unemployment compensation ruling which required workers "involuntarily" involved in industrial disputes to wait five weeks for jobless payments was expected to help determine the P. F. L. If the ruling is favorable the organization may throw some support to Republican candidates, one leader predicted. The P. F. L. has more than 600,000 members in Pennsylvania including 300,000 United Mine Workers.

Defines G. O. P. Platform
Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor announced that the G. O. P. platform would be "short, concise and specific." It has been interpreted as a move to forestall editorial criticism. In past years many editorial writers have blasted platforms of both parties for allegedly containing high-sounding, meaningless phrases. The Democrats have invited editors and newsmen to suggest planks for their platform.

The Democratic state committee's registration program has proceeded along well-defined lines but the effectiveness of the vote-getting blueprint will not be apparent until the ballots have been counted. Joseph J. Yosko, of Bethlehem, head of the registration program, has divided activities into three parts. The initial phase was to establish registration organizations in each county.

Currently, party workers are drafting county lists of unregistered persons eligible to vote and campaigning for funds to finance the work. Between Aug. 15 and Sept. 14, the workers will begin the actual work of persuading potential voters to get on record.

Capital in Doldrums
The state capital is in the midst of the summer doldrums and experience has proven that nothing can blast the average state employee out of the lethargy until Labor day rolls around. Vacation schedules are heaviest this month, especially for many top state officials whose administrative approval must be given to much of the work that flows through executive channels. Their absence slows business considerably and employees join in the general let down.

Legislative leaders planning personnel staffs for the House and Senate during the regular session of the general assembly opening Jan. 6 are undecided whether they will have trouble getting suitable employees. During the 1945 meeting, both houses were short-handed. Salaries are attractive and employees are paid on a seven-day basis no matter if the legislature meets only for three or four days each week.

Kiwanians See Film On Trucking

Interesting Picture Shown To Service Club Showing How Damage Occurs In Trucking

New Castle Kiwanis club members saw an interesting picture and heard a talk on the trucking industry by J. Fred Clarke, president of the Lawrence County Chapter of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castle, Wednesday.

The picture, which was shown by Clay Aibel, of the Penn Power Company, depicted some of the ills of the motor trucking industry, the damage claims which arise during the course of transporting freight by truck. It showed the number of times that packages have to be handled in transit, and the necessity for secure packaging to insure against damage.

It also showed the need for guarding against overloading of trucks, and care on the part of all drivers. This picture was prepared by the American Truck Association for truckers to enable them to improve their business, but shows the need for cooperation on the part of the shipper also, to guard against damage claims.

The club adjourned early to permit members to go to Ellwood City to participate in the Division golf tournament.

Resort Hotels Extend Season

One summer hotel, in order to add to the comfort of late vacationists, has provided electric blankets for the sleeping rooms. Another hotel, which usually closes in October, will close at the end of the month and will re-open Dec. 1 for the benefit of deer hunters and winter sports enthusiasts.

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD Aug. 8.—Judy Canova has just engaged a heavenly look and now our famous comedienne has two worries. The first is that the culinary delights set on her table will play hob with her diet. The second is that this paragon of the kitchen will depart. It seems she has ambitions to be a screen actress.

Judy told your reporter all about her—her name is Pearl and she comes from Georgia—when they were having a pot roast luncheon at the Columbia ranch.

Said Judy:

"I've never eaten such food as Pearl has served in the week she's been with us. She makes the most wonderful biscuits and hot bread. They're irresistible, but you know what they can do to a figure. You remember I told you a few months ago I wanted to lose 20 pounds. Well, I have lost 11. I didn't try to lose any more during the recent fad because I didn't think it would be good for me."

"The trouble with biscuits is not only the biscuits but what you put on them, lots of butter and I don't mind a dash of gravy, too."

"Pearl is quite sure she belongs on the screen. She tells me she thinks she could do fine. She does play the piano rather well."

"The other day she went down to San Bernardino. She weighed herself and got one of those fortune telling cards. It said, you have a hidden talent. Pearl thinks that's some sort of a sign she's destined for a screen career."

"I'd rather have her in my kitchen. She certainly can cook."

Girl Scout Campers At Halloween Party

Wednesday evening proved to be one of the most enjoyable of the entire season at the Girl Scout camp when the campers turned the calendar to October 31.

Bats, goblins, spooks, and black cats were all used to give the proper atmosphere in the barn. The Gypsy unit was responsible for the decorations.

When the mummies arrived, they lined up for a grand march while two counselors acted as judges. From the Elves unit, they chose Carolyn Bowman as the prize winner, while Alice Whitney took honors in the Blue Bird unit and Terry Dolsen won first in the Indian unit. Esther Cox was the unique Gypsy, and Janet Everett took the prize in the counselors group.

The Indian unit, which was in charge of the entertainment, guided the girls to the lower part of the barn. Each camper and counselor was required to go through a tunnel barefoot, keeping hold of a rope which guided her through. The Indians were delighted with the screams that came from the tunnel as the victims became entangled with nets, wet towels, and canyaves and stepped on bags which were really ends of string beans scattered on the floor. At one point the girls stepped into a large box where the lights flicked on and they found themselves face to face with their own image in a mirror. Spring covered with straw had to be crossed, and so did straw which was soaked in water.

These girls have been enjoying their activities at the camp, and only regret that the season is closing this weekend.

SEE QUESTION

VENTNOR, N. J., Aug. 8.—(INS)—Police at this busy summer resort attempting to unsnarl traffic problems, instituted a new parking fine violation and were promptly asked by one woman Wednesday:

"Would it be possible for me to pay $2 fine each week and be allowed to park my car all night regularly?"

The cops said no.

CLAIMS U. S. NOT SUPPLYING DUTCH ARMS, AMMUNITION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—A state department spokesman Wednesday sharply repudiated charges of the Moscow radio that the United States is supplying the Netherlands Indies government with arms and ammunition to aid it in retaining control of the islands.

The Moscow report charged that these were being supplied under a one hundred million dollar surplus property credit made to the Netherlands Indies government.

No arms, munitions or implements of war have been included in the surplus property already transferred to the Netherlands Indies government, the spokesman said.

Only small amounts of demilitarized equipment having a civilian use were sold to the Netherlands Indies government.

The foregoing policy will continue to be followed regarding any further surplus property which the Netherlands Indies government may desire to procure under the surplus property credit.

Geologist Will Study Atom Bomb Reaction To Coral

COLUMBUS, O. (INS) — While scientists and military authorities compile their data on atom bomb results, Geologist John H. Wells of Ohio State University works on the opposite side of a "before and after" picture of bomb results.

Coral samples—two tons of them—have been shipped to Wells. Collected when a preparatory commission visited the Bikini atoll in March, the samples were shipped in 21 parking cases.

Wells has been asked to send these specimens and to report exhaustively on the island's characteristics before the A-bomb drops. Other geologists are scheduled to visit the area and make a post-bombing report.

This is not the first time that Wells considered an outstanding authority on coral formations, has found specimens from the Pacific islands on his desk. In 1932 he made a study of coral from Jaluit atoll in the Marshall group. Those samples were reportedly collected by the emperor of Japan himself.

DEPLORES VOTERS' LACK OF INTEREST

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—(INS) — Federal Judge R. Guy K. Bard expressed dismay at naturalization ceremonies in Philadelphia Wednesday at the lack of interest of native-born Americans in their right to vote.

Inducting a class of 240 men and women of 15 different nationalities into American citizenship, Judge Bard added:

"Democracy is not only a privilege to be enjoyed, but a jewel to be protected. Unless you exercise your right to vote, you won't be good American citizens."

Ex-Army Physician Returns To Japan

CINCINNATI, O. — A Cincinnati physician who played a vital role in the final push on Tokyo is back in the war in Japan—the war against little-known diseases in a strange land.

Dr. Albert Sabin, professor of pediatrics at the University of Cincinnati and former lieutenant colonel in the army, is now a civilian consultant for the war department.

In Tokyo he will resume for four months the battle he waged while in uniform against sleeping sickness and dengue fever. His job is to fight those diseases both among our occupation troops and in the civilian population.

Dr. Sabin was flown to Okinawa last summer to supervise vaccination of 65,000 American soldiers against Japanese "B" encephalitis, a form of sleeping sickness.

His vaccine, developed in a study of the disease in 1942, is credited with preventing a major epidemic among our troops.

Table Mountain Being Used For Sailplane Tests

DENVER. — (INS) — Table Mountain—site of Denver's new soaring field—is a beehive of activity these days as daily test flights are made to determine soaring conditions.

The flat topped mesa located just west of Denver at the foothills of the Rockies, thus far, has proved to be an ideal location for soaring—the latest in glider sports.

Upon completion of the tests, the Colorado School of Soaring plans to offer instruction in the motorless flying.

On one day, a sailplane soared to 14,500 feet and stayed in the air for more than two hours.

Sailplanes launched from the mountain have been able to fly every day during the tests, and Arthur G. Maynard, the pilot, claimed that air currents in the vicinity were perfect.

To obtain additional data, a mobile weather station operated by U. S. Army weathermen, conducted tests on the field.

Maynard, who has been hired by the Chamber of Commerce to determine the desirability of the mountain for soaring activities, is convinced that the field will be the finest in the country.

Land for the runways was donated to the City of Denver by A. D. Quintance and Jack Broome.

Deaf Mute Turns Tables On Youths

SAUSALITO, Cal., Aug. 8.—(INS) — Two 16-year-old youths were held by Sausalito police today because they didn't know their would-be victim was a deaf mute and could read their lips.

E. B. Parkerhouse, 55, of Sausalito, picked up three hitch-hiking youths. By reading their lips, Parkerhouse learned that the boys intended to rob him and steal his auto.

When one of the boys, Richard Jones, pulled a pistol on him, Parkerhouse was prepared and disarmed him.

The two other youths fled, but police later picked up Wayne Rodrick Weaver, booked the captured pair on attempted robbery charges and are looking for the third youth. All three were from San Francisco.

U. S. STEEL PAYS OVER $77,000,000 FOR WAA PLANTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS) — The U. S. Steel Corp. presented to the war assets administration Wednesday checks totaling more than 77 million 490 thousand dollars for steel plants in Pennsylvania and Utah.

This transaction represented the two largest sales of government surplus war plants yet made.

Max D. Howell, vice president and treasurer of United States Steel, handed the large check to John J. O'Brien, deputy war assets administrator of real property disposal, at a special ceremony.

Plants purchased were the Duquesne Homestead and Braddock, Pa., steel production facilities, and the Geneva Steel Plant, Geneva, Utah.

The valuable timbers of the Jerusalem article are produced in clusters of 30 to 50, close about the thick, fleshy root. The plant grows in nearly any well drained soil.

AFL To Mobilize

Members For Fall Election Campaign

Will Make Attempt To Elect Congressmen 'More Responsive To People's Needs'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The American Federation of Labor promised today to mobilize its seven million members to elect congressmen "more responsive to the people's needs" in the fall elections.

In a statement the union denied, however, that it planned to set up a political action committee such as the group operated by the CIO.

The AFL announced that intensification of its political activities would be one of the top subjects on the agenda of the mid-summer meeting of the AFL executive council which opens in Chicago next Monday.

The union said it was "concerned over the many failures of the 79th Congress to approve measures on the 'must' list of organized labor, and disturbed and repeated congressional attacks on labor's basic freedoms."

Following its traditional non-partisan political course, the federation is expected to concentrate its efforts on getting out the labor vote in favor of candidates who have been endorsed on the basis of their voting records.

Other important and current matters listed by the AFL was issues to be decided by its executive council were:

1. Formulation of a domestic program to prevent inflation and guard against a future depression.

2. Recommendation of policies to further the cause of world peace.

3. Establishment of a maritime council in the AFL composed of unions active in the shipping industry.

4. Furtherance of organizing campaigns, especially the drive in the south for membership.

5. Determination of policy with regard to AFL representation in the international labor organization.

Captain McFarland Ordered To Report To European Area

Local Veteran To Make Third Trip To European Theater For Service; Family Will Follow

Captain Oren McFarland, twice an overseas veteran of World War II, has received orders to report to Camp Kilmer, N. J., on Aug. 23, where he will be sent for his third tour of duty in the European area. Captain McFarland will be engaged in special services following his arrival in Europe, but as yet does not know where he will be stationed.

Mrs. McFarland and three children, Beverly, Barbara and Karen, will follow Captain McFarland in approximately three months or until such time as he can set up a home for his family.

For the past three months, Captain McFarland has been engaged as post exchange officer at Fort George Meade, Md. Previous to that he served at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where he was undergoing special training. He also spent eight months at Indianhead Camp before it was deactivated as a U. S. military camp.

Captain McFarland saw active duty in World War II, when he saw action with the First Army in the African and Italian campaigns. Following the completion of that campaign, he came home and since has been back to Europe serving with the army.

Coming from a strictly army family, Captain McFarland had five brothers who all served in World War II, with one of his five brothers still in service, Major Chester McFarland, who is serving with the railroad procurement division of the occupational army in Japan.

While in the city, the McFarlands are staying with Mrs. McFarland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester McFarland, 128 Northview avenue.

Captain McFarland's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth McFarland, resides at 1213 South Mill street.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief waste-taking organs and when they become clogged with excess acids and poisons, waste out of the blood, they help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matters stay in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pen and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with smarting and burning, sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WHEAT FARMERS FEEL LIVING RISE COSTS

BURLINGTON, Colo. (INS)—"You would think maybe the cost of living wouldn't have gone up so high in a town this size," said lanky Bruce Channel, wiping the mixture of sweat and mud-dust off the day's growth of beard on his lean face. "But, believe me, it has."

Conflicting echoes of "That's right" and "You tell him, Bruce," and "Don't believe him—he's cleaning up," came from the group of wheat farmers and truckers gathered in the weighing-room of the Hart-Bartlett-Sturtevant Grain Co. elevator.

Grimacing at the jokes, the 35-year-old elevator manager went ahead weighing the truck-load of wheat piled up on the scales outside, still talking as he scrawled rapid figures on a receipt.

Cost of Living Up
"I'd say the cost of living has gone up at least 35 or 40 per cent, not counting clothes," he said. "If you include them too, you'd double it, or better yet, as far as it did five years ago. You wouldn't expect that in a town like this, would you?"

Burlington doesn't exactly look like an inflation or boom town. The last official census listed the Kit Carson county seat town's population at 1,280 and although it's grown some, it still doesn't spread very far over the sun-baked Great Plains region of eastern Colorado. It gets its livelihood from a pretty steady source, too. Farming and stock raising are the principal industries—which means wheat, corn, barley, feed crops, cattle, hogs, poultry and eggs.

Right now, the emphasis is on wheat, as Bruce talked and weighed, lines of grain-laden trucks snaked outside in the brutal midday sun, waiting for their turn to discharge their potential "bread for the world" into the elevator's dim and dusty pit. Their drivers sought the shade of the weighing shack, squatting in sun-baked clutter around the empty, non-bellied stove, listening to Bruce talk.

"I make $200 a month," he said. Then his face broke into a wry grin. "and you can quote me as saying that's not enough to support a wife and four boys."

However, he's lucky in one way. The company provides him with a house. Otherwise, it would cost him $35 to $50 a month to rent one. "I reckon our groceries run about $80 a month now," he went on. "and that's just about twice as much as it was not so long ago."

Although the Channels now own their car, it still costs upward of $10 a month for gas, oil and repairs—and the time will come when there'll have to be payments on a new one.

Taxes Faw
Due to his dependents, Bruce gets off easy on taxes, but clothes are something else. His boys are aged 3, 5, 8, and 12, and any parent will testify to the cost of keeping them in shirts and pants, not to mention shoes.

"It's not so bad in summer," the tall, lanky elevator man said. "Maybe $55 a month takes care of it, and maybe my wife wouldn't agree with me there, but I know it costs plenty more in winter."

"It will run you closer to $50," interjected a trucker. "Kids clothes cost twice or three times as much as they did five years ago."

Bruce nodded. So there's $150 some out of the $200. He said it was impossible to estimate what school books and the like amounted to, "except it gets more all the time, and as for doctor bills—"who can figure out how much that's going to be, any year?"

Recreation—well, when there's any money left, it goes for that. Bruce gets his largely by playing first base on Sun Hudson's Motor company softball team, but kids need a movie now and then and maybe an ice cream cone.

Emergency Costs
Then there are emergencies, future schooling plans and some $400 a year for insurance premiums on the family. Bruce sells insurance on the side, making "enough to pay our premiums, with some to spare a little over," and Mrs. Channel does part-time work on the elevator. "But still, even with gardens to cut the grocery bill—like most everybody in Burlington has—$200 a month just won't take care of a family of six nowadays," Bruce concluded. "and it used to do it easy."

And lots of people around town don't make $200 a month.

POTENTIAL TOOTHACHES
CHESTER—(INS)—Hundreds of potential toothaches were uncovered in dental tests of 1308 Ridley township school children. Examiners said each child averaged four cavities.

Milady On Sparkler Spree; Even Has 'Em In Her Hair

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Love and the upswipe hairdo were credited today with luring Americans into spending the record-breaking sum of one billion 200 million dollars for jewelry in 1945.

The Bureau of Mines made the pronouncement in a drastic departure from its usual preoccupation with such purely practical items as coal, iron and steel.

The scientific mind reasoned that the frantic sale of glitter gadgets gained impetus when the upswipe coiffure suddenly laid bare milady's ears last year.

Thereupon, the agency contended, she rushed off pell-mell to buy some earrings to add a little sparkle to the scenery.

Love Is the Cause
Love was held responsible for the brisk sale of engagement and wedding rings as well as for the rapid turnover of other precious gems and baubles.

The bureau noted that working women collected more than their share of sparklers as compared with housewives who apparently did not indulge.

It also reported that the vast majority of sales were made to persons in the lower and medium income groups. In a burst of social significance the report added:

"It should be emphasized that in the past decade wealth has shifted from the 400 to the medium and lower income brackets.

"The carriage trade is almost extinct.

Highlights of the bureau's carefully compiled fashion notes included these:

Emeralds For Smart Set
"Emeralds had made of place among the sophisticated.

"The double wedding ring ceremony is now standard.

"Clips were worn not only on dresses but attached to the neckline and on the hat.

"Tanyards and barrettes, bandeaus and stars for the hair are gaining in popularity.

"More and more rings are being worn over gloves.

"Earrings were in vogue due to the upswipe hair mode.

"For the first time the value of jade certainly exceeded that of sapphire and probably that of turquoise.

The announcement reported that recent gem diamonds are now quoted at more than twice the pre-war price. The importation of gem diamonds into the United States was said to have increased by 310 per cent between 1942 and 1945.

The agency declared that jewelry sales in Brazil and South Africa were "equally extravagant" as those in the United States in 1945.

FORMER WAVE TO RETURN NEXT WEEK
Dorothy J. Dodds, former Phi Mu 3-er of the Waves, was separated from the service on July 16 at San Diego, Cal., according to word received by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dodds, R. D. 1, Pulaski.

Miss Dodds has been visiting relatives in California and will return to this city next week.

Following her training at Hunter college, she served a year at the naval hospital at Santa Margherita, Occidente, Calif.

New Device For Battle Against Heart Disease

Electro-kymograph Enables Doctors To Photograph Motions Of The Heart

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—(INS)—A new weapon for use in combatting the nation's greatest single killer of humanity—heart disease—was unveiled in Philadelphia today by Temple university's medical school.

Offering new hope to thousands of heart disease sufferers and heralded as a revolutionary device for detecting the disease in its early stages, the weapon is known as the electrokymograph.

Temple scientists, working in conjunction with the United States public health service, have come up with the device after two years of research and development.

Dr. Bert R. Boone, one of the scientists engaged in perfecting the apparatus, expressed hope that the electrokymograph will enable medical science to curb heart disease, the nation's leading cause of death.

He explained that the electrokymograph enables a physician to photograph accurately the motions of the heart. Early diagnosis of the ailment, he said, has heretofore been hampered by a lack of such pictures.

Reflects Motions on Screen

Dr. Boone pointed out that the machine reflects the muscular motions of the heart on a fluorescent screen. These, he added, are converted into light impulses by means of a photo-electric cell, acting like the human eye. Any abnormal impulse will lead to discovery of heart disease, the scientist declared.

"The physician formerly looked at the heart through the x-ray," Dr. Boone said, "but the motions of the heart as recorded through this method were more complex than the eye could fully understand."

Using a moving film, the electrokymograph employs modern electronics and lets the photo-electric cell do the work of the human eye.

The device is not designed to replace the cardiograph, but to provide "a supplementary way of studying the heart's physiology," according to Dr. Boone.

He expressed a hope that the electrokymograph would be used in the near future for mass surveys in industrial plants and other places to spot cardiac illness.

Nationwide tests similar to a pattern of chest tests for tuberculosis are planned, he added, in an effort to detect heart ailment in its early stages among the American population.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—(INS)—A threatened strike at eight major Philadelphia bakeries was postponed at least temporarily today by last-minute intervention of federal conciliators.

The strike, scheduled to have begun at midnight, was held up pending renewal of negotiations later today.

The threatened bakery strike would halt production of approximately one million loaves of bread daily at 13 plants in the area.

The bakery workers, members of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union (AFL), are demanding a 30-cent hourly increase, a

Cleveland Births Set New Record

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—(INS)—When asked to comment today on the new record of 393 babies born during July at the maternity division of University Hospitals in Cleveland, Dr. Robert H. Bishop, hospital director, said:

"A great many men have returned from overseas. A large number of them got married. We now have a great many more babies."

Wild animals seldom die of old age.

Starts On Bike Tour Of Nation

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Mitchell Sadewitz, a determined Brooklyn piano player, pedaled into Philadelphia today on the first leg of a 2000-mile bicycle tour to distribute anti-cancer pamphlets.

Wearily, but smiling, Sadewitz proudly showed a note written by Dr. Albert Einstein, famed Princeton physicist, praising the pianist's efforts to enlighten the nation on the prevention of cancer.

Sadewitz visited Einstein after a send-off from New York by Mayor O'Dwyer. His tour will take him to 10 states in eight weeks.

The domestic hen probably lays more eggs than any other bird known. Auk, gannet, and murre lay only one; hummingbirds lay two.

Hershey Garden To Display 750 Rose Varieties

HERSHEY, Pa.—(INS)—The Hershey Rose Garden, one of the show places in the east for flower lovers, this year will display 750 plants of more than 750 varieties.

Twelve outstanding roses, chosen by 54 top-ranking professional gardeners, are featured in the seven acres of beauty. They are the Crimson Glory, Etrole de Hollande, Eclipse, Miranda, Charlotte Armstrong, Katherine T. Marshall, President Hoover, Countess Vandal, Christopher Stone, Panacea, Betty Prior and Frau Karl Druschki.

The garden was established nine years ago on the rolling estate of the late M. S. Hershey, millionaire chocolate king and philanthropist.

The best 10 roses of the past 10 years prominently displayed in the garden surrounding a large reflecting pool include the Crimson Glory, Eclipse, Christopher Stone and Countess Vandal and the Condesa de Sastura, Mme. Joseph Perroud, Angels Mateo, Sterling, Mme. Cochet-Cochet and Signora Piero Puricelli.

The pool is bordered by the ever-blooming Max Graf and Mermaid roses.

Warn Mothers To Investigate Baby Sitters

CHICAGO.—(INS)—Even if there aren't enough baby-sitters to answer the demand, the Chicago Council of Social Agencies warns mothers to investigate anybody who applies for the job.

For safety, the council advised, never leave the youngsters in the care of a male baby sitter.

Be sure the sitter is at least 14 years old.

If you're not lucky enough to find someone in the neighborhood, call the placement officer of your local school.

Ask for references, for instance, from a teacher.

And once you find someone to sit with the kiddies, advise her not to entertain her boy friends while you're making merry.

But, said the council, a thoughtful parent will leave some food available to avoid hunger pangs in the growing girl.

And a final tip: Be sure to leave the telephone number of your family doctor and the number of a nurse or a member of your family may be reached in an emergency.

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Infancy of Christ.

"Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."—Exodus 20:12.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 11 is Exodus 20:12; Matthew 7:9-12; Mark 7:9-13; Luke 2:41-52; Ephesians 6:1-4; Hebrews 12:7-11, the Memory Verse being Exodus 20:12. "Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

"HONOR THY father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

giveth thee." So reads Exodus 20:12. Since the end of the war, juvenile delinquency has been a tremendous problem of the whole United States—and other countries, too. What is wrong? The homes of the nations are suspect. Broken homes, homes where mothers work away and therefore cannot give proper attention to their growing children. Homes where parents are interested in other things than the training of their children in law-abiding ways. All these are partly to blame.

How can children brought up in homes such as these "honor" their fathers and mothers? Instead they often despise and resent them and blame their faults on them.

Such parents are, of course, in the minority. If we look about us at our friends, their friends, the people we know in our churches, clubs, etc., we see conscientious parents doing their best to bring up their children to God-fearing ways. But there are far too many of the other sort, and everyone—including the parents—suffer because of this state of affairs.

Parents Have Responsibilities
With so much brutality and hatred engendered in the world, parents have a tremendous responsibility for the morals of the coming generation. On the hopeful side is the fact that many more parents are interested in and are studying child training from experts and trying to understand and help their children to take their places as good Christian citizens.

We have recently had in our lesson the story of Jesus and His parents going to Jerusalem for the Passover, and Jesus being found by His father and mother in the temple talking with the priests. The only part, therefore, that we will mention here, is the fact that He returned to Nazareth with His people, and submitted Himself to them thereafter.

"And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." This is the only story we have concerning Jesus' childhood and only Luke tells it. But it suggests that He was an obedient child. He had brothers and sisters, you know, but there must have been love, obedience and happiness in the home.

Jesus compares the good father with the fatherhood of God when He asks, "What man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone? Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent? How much more then, will God, our loving heavenly Father, give us, His children, good things if we earnestly ask Him?"

Jesus Rebukes The Pharisees
Jesus rebuked the Pharisees and "certain of the scribes" when they complained that the disciples did not wash their hands before eating in the ceremonious way of the Jews, or the cups and pots and brazen vessels. He called them hypocrites who observed the letter of the law but when it came to taking care of their old parents they resorted to tricks. A man could say to his needy parents that such a property was "Corban," a gift to the Lord, and still could take profits from it for his own use and be free of caring for his parents. "Ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition," He told them.

In a letter to the Ephesians, written from Rome, Paul repeats the instruction of honoring and obeying parents, and adds to it, "Children," he says, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right.

"Honor thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise." The promise is that they shall live long in the land that the Lord their God gave them. Then Paul writes, "And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath, but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

All parents make mistakes, of course, they are too indulgent and then too strict. They lose their tempers just as we all do, and are not always wise. But the good parent does try to control his own nature, to be just, understanding and loving to his child. He tries not only words of rebuke, counsel and advice, but by his example, to teach them the way they should live. Such a parent should be honored all his days, and after he has passed on he is never forgotten. Such parents try to live as God their Father, would have them, and their children "rise up and call them blessed."

LEAF HOPPERS CAUSE ALFALFA TO YELLOW

In fields where potato leaf hoppers are causing yellowing and stunting of alfalfa, the best solution is to move these fields with the expectation of new growth free from this damage.

Leaf hoppers and tarnished plant bugs, which also are in evidence in large numbers in many fields, are reported by extension entomologists of the Pennsylvania State College as causing severe injury to alfalfa and clover grown for seed production.

They recommend treating at once alfalfa and clover seed stands with DDT dust or spray. But their caution that since DDT is a poison any growth so treated must not be used for hay or permitted to be eaten in any way by livestock.

The such treatment, a 3 per cent DDT dust (30 to 40 pounds per acre) or a 50 per cent DDT wettable powder (12 pounds in 100 gallons of spray) and applied 100 to 125 gallons per acre may be used.

Applying the dust or spray in late afternoon or early evening results in a minimum loss to bees from poisoning. Because leaf hoppers usually leave alfalfa stands before the yellowing starts, it is too late to look for this symptom before applying a remedy.

Originally the cymbals were military instruments, but are now much used in orchestras.

Burgomaster is a sailor's name for certain large gulls, such as the glaucous gull of Greenland.

ERIE SWIM CLUB HELPS YOUNG BOYS

ERIE, Pa., Aug. 8.—(INS)—Add to the latest club for boys—The Erie Swim club.

Armand Chimenti, president of the organization, said the sole aim of the club is to provide a good time for youths between 10 and 14 years of age.

Three times a week, Chimenti said, about 125 boys are taken on an outing. They bring their own lunch but are provided with milk, dessert, sports equipment and supervision.

Chimenti said: "We haven't forgotten our own game as boys and this is just one way of trying to make things pleasant for our successors."

Terminal Leave Funds, Autos For Amputees Okayed

Truman Signs Bills Appropriating $2,461,000,000 On Two Measures

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—President Truman today signed a bill appropriating two billion, 461 million dollars for G. I. terminal leave pay and 30 million dollars to give war service amputees automobiles.

The money was carried in the last supplemental appropriation bill passed by Congress before its adjournment. The measure also contains 26 million dollars additional for the operation of OPA.

Under terms of other legislation still to be approved by the president, G. I.'s will receive terminal leave pay for their wartime service on the same basis as officers. The pay will be computed on a basis of two and one-half days for each month of service up to a maximum of 30 days.

Presidential secretary Ross told the press that President Truman will sign the terminal leave pay authorization bill—probably tomorrow.

Payment will be made in bonds maturing in five years, a stipulation insisted upon by the Senate after the House had approved the bill.

The auto-for-amputees program provides that war service amputees who lost one or both limbs above the knee shall be provided with a car equipped with special driving devices. The applicants must show, however, that the auto to cost a maximum of $1,600 is necessary in their work or to transport them to and from work.

The OPA funds were approved by Congress after being requested by the administration because of the form in which the OPA revival law was finally drawn. The OPA previously had received 75 million dollars for its operations during the current year.

Minimum travel in 1945 to the Caribbean Islands, New Mexico, was on February 27, when only 102 persons entered the caves. The maximum for the year was September 2, with a total of 3,741 guests.

Farmer Injured Raising Ladder

Another farm accident occurred yesterday afternoon, when the top section of an extension ladder fell striking Jonas Beight, an elderly farmer of North Beaver township.

Mr. Beight, with his son, Howard, were raising the ladder along side of a building on their farm when the top section of the extension ladder broke. The elder Beight was clutching a rung of the lower section and the falling portion of the ladder caught his fore-arm, tearing it severely.

Mrs. Allura McClelland, to whose home he was taken, attended the wound and upon seeing the serious nature of the injury brought the man to Dr. Wilmarth of Mahoningtown. Dr. Wilmarth closed the wound with five stitches. After receiving medical attention, Mr. Beight was able to return home.

McKinney Sees Much To Be Done With Pirate Club

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Frank E. McKinney, who said he'll take over the Pittsburgh Pirates this afternoon had only this comment to make about the ball team: "It looks right now that it will be pretty hard to get out of last place. What I want to do right away, though, is study the whole structure and reorganize the farm system."

The Indianapolis banker and co-owner of the Indianapolis baseball club added that by the end of the season the Pirates will get full control of the Indianapolis club, giving Pittsburgh a second double A league farm club. Hollywood is the other.

McKinney said he has a working agreement with Louis Perini, owner of the Boston Braves, who controls 40 per cent of the Indianapolis club.

VETS. APPEAL DECISION OF LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD

Attorney Walter A. Kieker, representing the Nashanock Post No. 315 Veterans of Foreign Wars, presented a petition to the Lawrence County Courts on Wednesday morning, appealing from the decision of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board refusing to grant them a liquor license on the grounds that the quota was full.

Appearing for the Liquor Control Board was Attorney Andrew G. Uncapher, special deputy attorney general of Pittsburgh.

Under the law, when such a petition is presented, the court hears the arguments for and against such a request all over again. In this case, however, it was agreed that no testimony would be taken and the only question at issue being whether the quota law applied to the local V. F. W. post or not.

Brief arguments were presented. Mr. Kieker stating that liquor transactions within the club are not retail sales, and for that reason, the quota does not apply to them. He further stated that the language of the quota act itself is not intended to apply to clubs such as the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. Uncapher, in reply, stated

Treasury Drive Nets $170,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The treasury department announced Wednesday that its drive against black market operators and other tax evaders netted 170 million dollars in the year ended June 30, 1946.

All of this additional tax money came from voluntary payment of delinquent and amended returns, and included one payment of two million dollars by Treasury Secretary Snyder refused to name any of the persons or corporations involved.

The treasury also said that in a campaign coordinated with OPA, 85 additional convictions were obtained in the same year in connection with liquor black markets.

The drive also resulted in a sharp reduction of sugar diversion for illicit stills.

The tax bureau announced that for the first time in history, recommended adjustments of penalties and assessments over and above original tax returns would exceed one billion dollars in the year ended June 30.

Total of these additional sums is one billion, 275 million dollars.

Says Slaughter Defeat Reflects Confidence Vote

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic national committee, declared Wednesday that the defeat of Rep. Roger Slaughter in the Missouri primary meant a "strong vote of confidence" in President Truman.

Hannegan termed the vote for the president's candidate, Enos Axtell, a composite of Democratic Republican and independent support, in the district.

The Democratic chairman himself, like the president, a Missourian, asserted:

"The voters of Missouri were aware of Mr. Slaughter's consistent opposition to the policies of the Truman administration, which are a faithful continuation of the policies of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"In rejecting Mr. Slaughter they were registering their approval of those policies."

Hannegan said he believed the Truman administration was supported throughout the nation by a combination similar to those that voted for Axtell and predicted that "this support will be expressed even more emphatically next November."

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Steam-heated sidewalks, the basis of a thousand jokes, will become a reality in a 50 million dollar dream center for shopping, offices and amusements to be under construction within a year.

Mead Committee To Cut Vacation

Members Agree To Return Before September 1 If Requested By Chairman

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Chief Counsel George Meador of the Senate War Investigating committee disclosed today that the 16-member group will probably cut short its vacation for a meeting later this month.

Meador said the session would be "secret".

He added that although the committee announced it would not hold further public hearings until after Sept. 1, unless an emergency arose, members agreed to return if requested by the chairman, Sen. Mead (D-N.Y.).

Meador said that the purpose of the closed session was to receive testimony on charges that defective 42 mortar shells killed American soldiers during the war.

However, many problems have arisen since the committee recessed last week and it was expected that members would give them their attention.

The committee must decide what action to take on (1) the inability because of illness of Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.) to testify concerning testimony linking him with the Garsson case; (2) the disappearance of "important" Garsson case records from the Meador committee files; and (3) demands for an investigation of industrialist Henry J. Kaiser by Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) and of the transportation industry by Sen. Taylor (D-Idaho).

In addition, Sen. Langer (R-N.D.) has urged the committee to resume public hearings without delay so that Kaiser may reply to Bridges and amplify charges of his own that the RFC discriminated against him in favor of "Big Steel".

Sources close to the committee were inclined to discount the importance of the documents stolen from the committee's files, apparently about a year or so ago. It was pointed out that they included largely copies and photostatic reproductions of originals apparently still available to the committee if needed.

Vets Advisory Committee In Need Of Funds

Emmett Sheehan headed a delegation of the Veterans Advisory committee today before council in city hall, where Mr. Sheehan requested council to appropriate money needed to carry on the worthwhile movement here.

Gov. D. O. Davies which referred the request to committee. They indicated the request would be granted.

According to Mr. Sheehan, city council appropriated $1,000 when the council was formed last year. Jack Preston was employed to act for the council in solving veterans problems.

Not so long ago Mr. Preston left the council and Mr. Sheehan reported today that he did not receive his last month's salary because the appropriation was depleted.

Since then, Frank T. Sargent, who is connected with the fire department and who handled all OGD affairs for local OGD Director D. O. Davies during the war, "took over" and has handled several hundred veterans problems each month. He is swamped with work and there is need of a stenographer. Mr. Sheehan stated. The money with which to employ a stenographer is also needed, Mr. Sheehan explained.

Centralize Offices

Warren Jones, head of the local Veterans Administration office, said that there are problems which come before the organization over which he presides here, that can be best handled by the Veterans Advisory council, as now represented by Mr. Sargent. He suggested that centralized offices be set up.

He also stated that if needed, the Veterans Administration would provide office space for Mr. Sargent and a stenographer in the VA office.

"By putting the two offices together a veteran will have his problems answered one way or the other in the same building," he stated. By this, he explained that if the Veterans Administration cannot handle a local situation the veteran can step immediately into the office of Mr. Sargent to take up the affair with him instead of traveling to another building. At present Mr. Sargent's office is in city hall.

Resume Parley On Lake Strike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Representatives of the CIO Maritime union and 14 shipping and oil companies today resumed their government-sponsored conciliation conferences aimed at averting a strike of Great Lakes seamen on Aug. 15.

The union and management representatives renewed their talks with federal conciliators at 10 a. m. EST, after each party had met separately with labor department officials for half an hour.

There was no indication of the progress being made by the conferees to head off a tie-up of Great Lakes shipping which would hamper movement of grain, iron ore and other commodities.

Corporal Cox, of the New Jersey State police, said Sherry was heading toward Philadelphia and apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Sherry was found by a passing motorist. He was taken to a hospital and pronounced dead. Cox said Sherry apparently was a business agent for a plumber's union.

SCIENTIFIC AID

COLUMBUS, O.—(INS)—Columbus fire department has turned to the scientific laboratory for help in its war on false-alarm pullers.

Shirts-Sheets-Shorts They're All Short Here

Keep your shirt on, brother. If you're lucky enough to have one, let alone two, not to mention a drawerful, and don't yank too hard on the sheets either. Because shirts and sheets and shorts are short, despite the 20 cent price hike in cotton goods.

As of yesterday afternoon, they are very short here in New Castle. One of Pa. News's girls went shopping for a mythical 15-3 dress shirt and a sheet, either muslin or percale and failed to uncover either. What's more, merchandiser men here say the prospects for the next two months for either item aren't good.

No Choice
So if you're best friend blossoms out in a sports shirt looking like a California playboy and you wonder if battle fatigue has struck again, chances are it's just that the poor guy has no sartorial choice.
As for sheets, mending days are here again for the housewife. Yes, sheets come into stock occasionally, but only a few, and are sold out so quickly that it's a case of "here again, gone again."

One local store that gets some muslin sheets and pillow cases in about every two weeks, hasn't had a percale sheet in since last February and is having customers leave orders on a piece of paper to be sent out as incoming stock may assure them a sheet or two. "We weed out duplicate orders, too," the head of the department warned.

So if you order two today and repeat tomorrow it doesn't necessarily add up to four.

To revert to that 15-3 dress shirt, the first men's store had none and the clerk said soothingly "Our fall shipment ought to be in sometime."

Not a Shirt
In the men's department of a different store, the answer was a definite, "Not a shirt. We expect some in a couple of months but not before." Not even sport shirts there. Another store that had none either, wouldn't hazard a guess when any would come in. "They don't tell us anymore," the clerk said.

In several stores, clerks pointed to a few colored shirts that were sizes 14, 14½ or 17, none in the popular sizes.
OPA has boosted the price of cotton textiles 16 per cent and the result the executive director of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers has announced may provide incentive for increased production.

In the meantime, laundry go east on our shirts and sheets. They're short.

Batavia Metals Sold For 'Peanuts'

Garson Sells One Of 'Paper Empire' Plants For $3000 And Profit Share

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Henry "Doc" Garson on Wednesday announced the sale of the Batavia (Ill.) Metal Products Co. to a New York syndicate "for peanuts".

The syndicate is headed by James Stein and Herman Starr.

The sale price was $3000, plus a percentage of earnings over a period of ten years, the total not to exceed $50,000.

The surprise announcement was made at the opening of a hearing before Referee in Bankruptcy Martin Ward.

Seven creditors, including the U. S. government, seek to throw the Batavia Metal Products Co. and one of the 14 subsidiaries which make up the Garson's vast $78,000,000 "paper empire" into bankruptcy.

The government claims of almost two million dollars against the parent company and the subsidiary, Henry Garson and his brother Murray, who recently sold out to him, and the empire are under investigation by the Mead senate committee in connection with their war contracts for the manufacture of munitions.

State To Issue Hunters' Booklet

HARRISBURG — For the sixth consecutive year the vacation and recreation bureau of the State Department of Commerce will compile a booklet listing the accommodations for hunters in Pennsylvania, the department announced today.

All hotels, inns, farm homes, camps and other places listed in the previous booklets will be sent a questionnaire to be filled out giving full information. This will be placed in the booklet for free distribution. Places not previously listed are urged to send their names to the department and a questionnaire will be sent to them. This must be returned to the department immediately.

As previously the state game commission will operate with the department in its efforts to collect all possible information.

Father Divine Takes White Bride

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Father Divine, who parlayed "peace—its wonderful" into fame, fortune and a kingdom in Harlem, secretly took a beautiful white Canadian bride in Washington four months ago.

This was affirmed today by the Rev. Albert L. Shadd, the clergyman who united the black Messiah in wedlock with 21-year-old Edna Rose Ritchings. The reverend stated: "I do not wish to confirm or deny it—but it's a fact."

The celebrated Negro evangelist obtained a marriage license in the District of Columbia under the name of "Major J. Divine". On the license application he listed his first wife, the plump and placid Mother Divine, as dead.

Seek Sites For Roadside Rests

HARRISBURG—Progress is being made by the department of highways in securing sites for construction of roadside rests as provided for in legislation approved by Governor Edward Martin.

The governor signed an act which provides for the expenditure of $150,000 for the construction of these areas.

The department is planning to begin work on the first of these within the next few weeks. Start of the program, the department says, was delayed because of complications in acquiring suitable locations.

The areas for the roadside rests will range from three-quarters of an acre to two and a half acres.

Martin Gantz Reunion Plans Near Completion

Plans are nearing completion for the annual Martin Gantz school reunion, which is scheduled Thursday evening, August 15, at the Cathedral at 6:30.

Out of town cards were mailed several weeks ago, and according to the reports, quite a few have been returned mailing in reservations. Local cards were mailed this week, and will be returned by August 12.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock but it is expected that the former teachers and pupils will gather earlier in the evening to reminisce of old times and talk of the past year activities. The reunion will provide an enjoyable evening for those who are not able to meet often, and especially for those who plan to attend from out of town.

Fred Duff is the Martin Gantz chairman and he has selected a group of committees, which are co-operating to make this reunion one of the best held by the Martin Gantzers.

Since the date of the reunion was announced the committees have gathered several times for meetings, and according to all indications the entertainment and entire reunion will be staged differently, and will prove to be an entertaining evening.

PROPERTY OWNERS TO SPUR DRIVE IN STATE NEXT WEEK

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The National Home and Property Owners Foundation planned today to accelerate its organization drive in Pennsylvania next week.

State Director Milton M. Strouse reported regional meetings to enroll land owners will be held in Altoona, August 12; Williamsport, August 20; Glenside, September 4 and Reading, September 6.

"The meetings will highlight our campaign to organize property owners in Pennsylvania to push for legislation that will affect them on a national and state-wide basis," Strouse declared.

State Chairman Earl S. Kester of Allentown, was slated to discuss the organization's purpose and accomplishments, according to Strouse.

He claimed the Foundation was instrumental in blocking the Wagner-Elender-Taft bill proposing the establishment of a costly federal housing program. The measure was viewed as a threat to free enterprise and private ownership of property, he said.

The Oregon Short Line Railroad does not enter Oregon.

Bees To Suffer Sugar Shortage; Weather Blamed

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—Even the honey bees in Pennsylvania are suffering from a shortage of sugar.

Instead of adding to the state's short supply of sweets, Pennsylvania honeybees this year had to dip into low sugar stocks in order to stay alive, the state department of agriculture revealed following a mid-summer federal-state survey of the honey production possibilities.

Spring's cool, wet weather is to blame, observers said.

Beekeepers report that many colonies were wiped out because bees starved to death when they could not get out to collect nectar. Each fall, beekeepers leave sufficient honey in the hives to feed their bees through the winter. When spring was late this year the winter food supply was depleted and owners had to get special rations from OPA to feed their bees sugar water.

Former SS Colonel Admits His Guilt

NUERNBERG, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Wolfram Sievers, a former SS colonel, admitted before the international military tribunal today that the SS substituted live human beings for animals in Nazi research laboratories.

He said this step was taken because "the supply of animals was depleted by war."

Sievers was rector of the Ancestral Heritage society, the SS scientific research institute that gathered anthropological data on so-called aryan types. It conducted experiments to "purify" the racial strain.

Barbers Probably Were Protesting

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The unexplained right of a person to let his hair and whiskers grow as long as he darn well pleases was upheld today by Judge Samuel Heller.

E. N. Patterson had been served with a five-day eviction notice by landlady Mrs. May Lookingland on the charge that he hasn't had a haircut or a shave for a year and one-half and "isn't fit to be seen."

Judge Heller ruled: "The court finds this insufficient cause for eviction. If we can evict a man for letting his hair grow too long, we can, of course, evict him for cutting it too short."

"This would lead to all sorts of complications."

Patterson apologized for his failure to attend the court session, saying he couldn't come to court without a haircut—and that, a trimming was the last thing he wanted.

Meadville Youngster Has Dreaded Lukemia

MEADVILLE, Pa., Aug. 8.—(INS)—Parents of two-year-old Michael McManus, a victim of dreaded lukemia, a blood malady, today sent out a frantic appeal for blood donors to help save the youth's life.

Glenn McManus, the boy's father, said Michael was rushed to the Children's hospital in Pittsburgh last Tuesday and has been receiving blood transfusions every other day. However, only three blood donors were available, he said.

Physicians said Michael has the most common blood type—"O."

Believe Pirates Will Be Sold To McKinney Today

Indianapolis Banker In Pittsburgh For Conference With Benswanger

By ED KIELY
(International News Service Sports Writer)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—Developments were breaking fast on the Pittsburgh baseball front today as Frank E. McKinney, an Indianapolis banker, was scheduled to arrive in the Steel City to close negotiations for purchasing the last-place Pirates.

Should McKinney buy the club—some sources claim he already has closed the deal—he'll have to solve a king-size labor headache before he can start making plans for rebuilding a team that is fraught with internecine troubles.

Although Benswanger has continually denied the sale, best informed sources claim McKinney acquired the club two weeks ago and was granted additional time to dispose of the 10 per cent of the stock he owns in the Boston Braves.

Meanwhile, the banker's only real rival in the bidding, Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, representing a local syndicate, felt he still had "an excellent chance" to purchase the team. He added:

"It will be most unusual if Benswanger closes the deal without giving us a chance to make another bid."

Reliable sources claim that if McKinney buys the Bucs, Benswanger will be retained in the official capacity of vice president and chairman of the board and Ray Kennedy will stay on as general manager.

Not expected to stay in the new set up was Sam Wattles, vice president and treasurer who has been associated with the Pirates for 40 years.

Also expected to be ousted under the new regime is Frankie Frisch, manager of the team for the past seven seasons. A number of present and former baseball greats were included as possible successors. Included were Joe McCarthy, Jimmy Dykes, Pie Traynor, Al Lopez, and Kiki Cuyler.

Good Fishing, French Reports

Pennsylvania Has Issued 650,000 Licenses, Which Is An Increase Over 1945

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—(INS)—State Fish Commissioner C. A. French said today that reports showed Pennsylvania anglers were experiencing a "very fine" season this year.

French was unable to estimate the number of Pennsylvanians participating in the season but a revenue department official said 650,000 licenses had been ordered this year. Approximately 425,000 tags were issued last year.

French reminded anglers that the 1946 game fish season would continue until November 30. Game fish, he explained, included large and small-mouthed bass, muskellunge, pickerel and wall-eyed pike.

Legal Limits
He said fishermen may catch six bass daily providing the fish were nine inches in length. Two muskellunge, which must be at least 24 inches long to be retained, may be caught daily.

Wall-eyed pike must be 12 inches long and six may be retained each day while pickerel must measure at least one foot. Six pickerel may be caught daily, French added.

He pointed out that pickerel may be caught between December 1 and January 31 provided anglers fish through ice. Similar limits during the "ice" fishing season will prevail, French said.

Women Golfers To Start Play Monday In Western Amateur

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—(INS)—A record-breaking field of 174 lady golfers were entered today in the Women's Western Amateur Tournament which opens on the Cleveland Country Club course next Monday.

Heading the list of contestants are Babe Didrikson Zaharias, who topped the Tam O'Shanter All American; Louise Suggs, winner of the Western Open, and the defending titlist, Phyllis Otto.

Mrs. Zaharias, who was beaten one-up by Miss Otto last year, will still be shooting for her first Western Amateur crown.

Despite Mrs. Zaharias' record for being the longest hitter in women's competition, Miss Suggs is the ranking favorite.

Jersey City Team Plans To Protest

JERSEY CITY, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The Jersey City Giants of the International league will forfeit one game if Mickey Owen, former Dodger catcher, is reinstated by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

Charles Stoneham, secretary of the Jersey City club, said the players had agreed not to play the next game scheduled after Owen's reinstatement.

Stoneham said it would be unfair to players who had refused large offers from the Mexican league to remain loyal to American baseball to have Owen reinstated.

Raffa-Fontaine Battle Tonight

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The winner of the Buddy Samart-Billy Bates lightweight bout tonight has been promised a shot at the survivor of the Mike Raffa-Joe Fontaine feature event at Promotor Fritz Zivich's weekly boxing show.

Samart and Bates will clash in the semi-windup.

Cardinals Trim Pirates 8 To 1

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—If Frank McKinney, the Indianapolis banker, takes over the Pirates today, he will be acquiring a baseball bargain in more ways than one.

He couldn't have picked a more auspicious moment to buy the club. They are hopelessly sunk in the cellar for the first time since 1917 when they finished an inglorious last with 103 defeats chalked up against them under Peter State's Hugo Bezdek, who knew much more about football than he did about baseball.

Like all other sports, baseball is enjoying a tremendous boom, and McKinney figures to get in on the ground floor literally and figuratively. As a dealer in sound investments, he realizes that he is getting a bargain.

Costello Enters Canfield Midget Races Saturday

Sharon Midget Car Driver Has Been Consistent Winner On Lighted Circuit

Bill Costello of Sharon, Pa., who has been racing on the Ohio circuit for the past two seasons and who competes at the Canfield Midget Auto Races on Saturday night is one of the early entrants for the big nine event program which will be held under the floodlights on Ohio's finest quarter mile flat track at Canfield Saturday night, Aug. 16.

Although racing against the finest competition of cars and drivers anywhere Costello has been able to consistently be among the leading competitors wherever he has driven.

Can Hold His Own
In racing at the Buffalo, N. Y., City Stadium, he has raced against the leading eastern drivers and has been more than holding his own there also, and the fans of the Mahoning Valley have established him as one of their favorite stars.

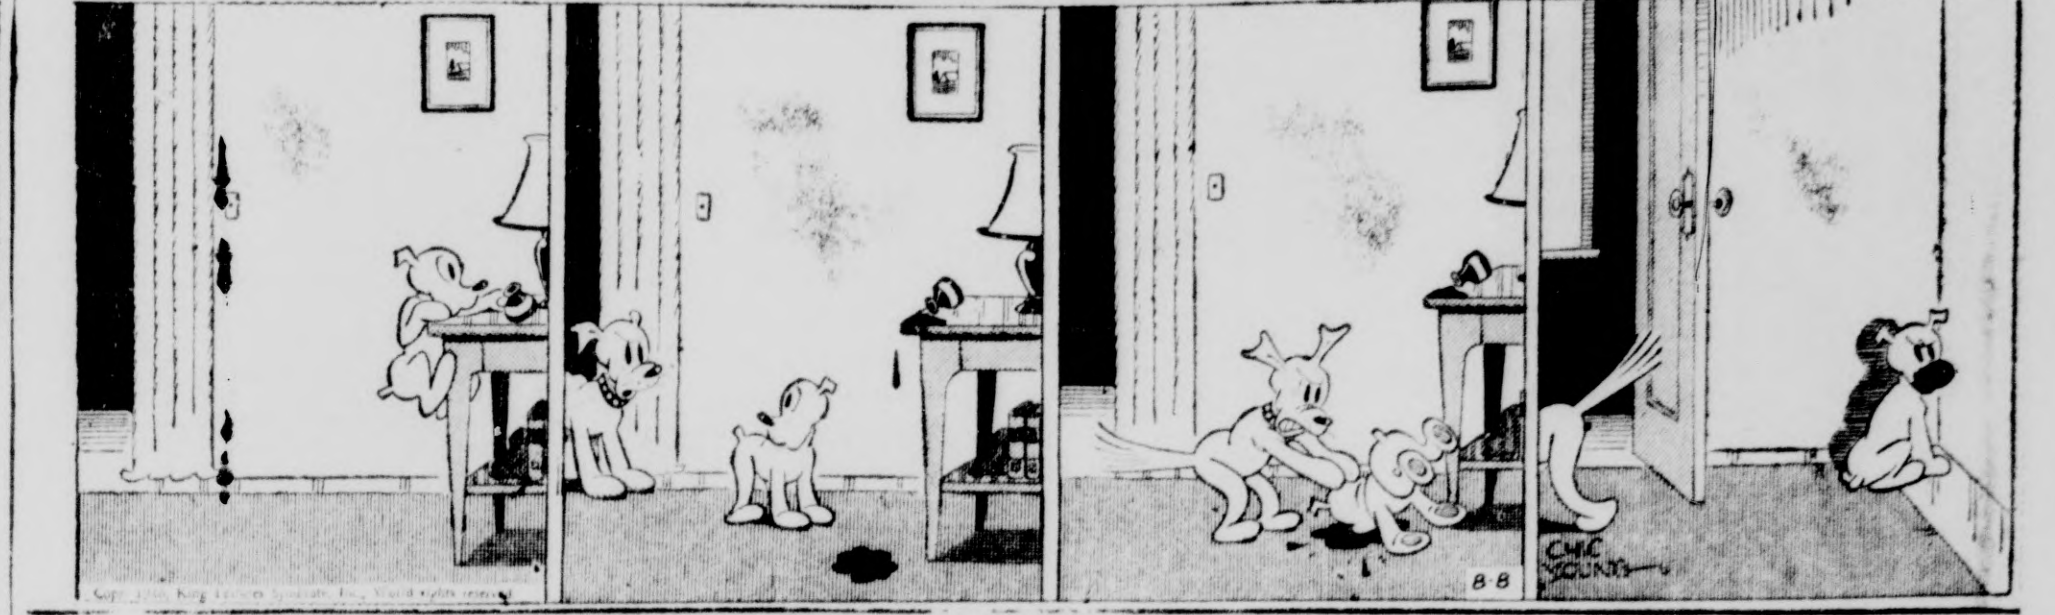

The Floyd Trevis Offenbacher which was without a driver last Saturday night and was forced to stay in the pits, will be back in competition with one of the name drivers of the midwest at the wheel. This car is one of the finest 1946 Offenbauers in competition.

Time trials will start promptly at 7 p. m. (DST) with the first event at the starting line at 8:45.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(INS)—Jockey Robert L. "Bird" Vedder, 26, of Cincinatti, Kas., today forced the prospect of never being able to throw a leg up on another mount on race tracks affiliated with the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

Vedder was ruled off the track for life Tuesday by the Illinois Racing Board. He was charged with attempted bribery.

Milk Industry Must Assist In Stream Cleanup

Dealers Greatest Offenders
In Dumping Of Milk
Wastes Into Water: ways Is Report

OTHER FARM NEWS FROM HARRISBURG

HARRISBURG, Aug. 8.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania milk industry has been drawn into the state's accelerated drive to end stream pollution. The sanitary water board, spearheaded by the cleanup enforcement, has pointed out that the greatest pressure against dumping of milk wastes into waterways was being brought against the dealers rather than the producers. A relatively small number of farmers operated bottling and dairy manufacturing plants where waste problems originated, it was explained.

A board member reported that wastes were generally limited to weak tinsings washed from milk cans. In many instances the residue was fed to hogs.

"The putrefying organic matter in milk is what causes pollution," the official explained. "Bacteria working on the substances draw oxygen from the water, dooming aquatic life."

Committee Studies
A special committee representing the board and the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers was studying milk disposal methods. Remedial measures currently practiced included filtering of dairy product wastes in tanks or piping residue into fields, the board said.

Attempts will be made to draft uniform basic requirements so dealers may begin corrections without delay, the board added.

The association said it was endeavoring to keep clean-up costs to a minimum in order to keep down the cost of handling milk.

The state department of agriculture has announced that a bumper crop of hickories was being harvested in the Pocono mountain area and that a heavy yield of blackberries was expected.

Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst has reported a survey showed that for the first time in the history of the state, Pennsylvania farmers were paying hired hands an average of $5 per day and more than $100 per month without board.

A federal-state survey has disclosed that 381,000 bushels of corn were stored in Pennsylvania interior mills, elevators, warehouses, merchant mills and terminals July 1, an increase of 175,000 bushels compared with the same date of 1945. At the same time, stocks of oats, barley and rye were less than the 1945 total, the survey showed.

The agriculture department has reported that the digging of early potatoes was progressing northward. Most unsprayed late crops were badly hit with blight while well-treated potato fields looked promising. Tomatoes were said to be slow in ripening and blight was reported in some canning crops in southern counties.

Finish Craft Begun In 1940

NAZARETH, Pa., Aug. 8.—(INS)—It took them a lot longer than it did Noah to build his ark, but the Screwball has finally been launched by a group of Nazareth residents.

The craft, powered with a 65-horsepower Chris Craft engine, was begun October 25, 1940.

Only before it was completed, a war came along and the approximately 60 members of the Screwball club ran into a lot of difficulties.

Some of them went into the armed forces, others got jobs in defense plants, but none of them could finish work on the Screwball.

But several months ago, enough of the enthusiasts were back from the war again to begin work on the vessel. Finally completed, the craft was launched at Nazareth and is being used for fishing parties.

And at least one woman, Mrs. Steward C. Badv, wife of the chief builder, is glad that the Screwball is finished. It has been a demanding rival in her marriage, she claims.

"It was about as bad," she said, "as being in the service."

A "beep pilot" is a man in charge of a radio-controlled plane who operates the craft by remote control many miles away from his charge.
